Re: Announcement

It is with mixed feelings that the Board of Directors of North Shore Multicultural Society (NSMS) announces Elizabeth Jones' well-deserved retirement in early 2018. It was over 16 years ago that Elizabeth accepted the job of Executive Director. NSMS was a small not-for-profit which has grown into a successful and well-respected settlement agency on the North Shore. From three staff, there are now 60; from three programs, there are now many diverse programs meeting the needs of immigrants and refugees, and providing support to building an inclusive and welcoming North Shore.

We are all proud of Elizabeth's amazing accomplishments over the years! As any good leader, she will tell you that she has not done it alone, and gives credit to her dedicated and talented staff team, the Board, the many community partnerships that have been built over the years and the funders who have provided support. She will be dearly missed by all!

The Board of Directors is recruiting a new person to lead the organization. More information can be found on the Charity Village link below
